THE following Work has been drawn up by Signor Ricci, Professor of Italian in the City of London College, on the same plan as the Principia Latina and the French and German Principia.

The main object of the book is to enable a beginner to acquire an accurate knowledge of the chief grammatical forms, to learn their usage by constructing simple sentences as soon as he commences the study of the language, and to accumulate gradually a stock of words useful in conversation as well as in reading. The grammatical forms are printed in conspicuous type and at full length, as no sound knowledge of the language can be acquired unless the pupil becomes thoroughly familiar with these forms. But at the same time it is important that the learner should be exercised from the first in the construction of Sentences, so as to test by practical application the grammatical forms. The present Work thus contains Grammar, Delectus, and Exercise-book, with Vocabularies, and consequently presents in one book all that the beginner will require for some time in his study of the language.

The Grammar has been made as complete as possible, so far as the forms are concerned, in order to obviate the necessity of the use of any other Grammar. Great pains have been taken to simplify the Rules, which often consist of only a few words, when the same subjects occupy several pages in other Italian Grammars. Special care has been taken in the arrangement and classification of the Irregular Verbs. Many of the so-called Irregular Verbs, which show the same slight irregularities, are given in the chapters on Peculiarities of Verbs.

As most persons have learnt some Latin before beginning Italian, it has been thought advisable to point out the affinities between the two languages. In the Vocabularies the etymology of all Italian words is given, not only of those derived from the Latin, but also of those which come from the Teutonic and other languages. In the case of Teutonic derivations the modern German forms, where they exist, are generally given, as more practically useful than the older forms, from which the Italian words actually come. In drawing up these lists the authorities of Diez, Littré, and Brachet have been chiefly followed.

The writer has consulted most of the books used in teaching Italian both in this country and abroad, and desires to express his obligations to the Grammars of Volpe and Sauer, as well as to the ordinary Grammars used in Italian Schools.

INDEX I.—ITALIAN WORDS	204
INDEX II.—ENGLISH WORDS	213

A FIRST ITALIAN COURSE.

I.—THE ALPHABET. PARTS OF SPEECH.

1. Alphabet.—The Italian alphabet consists of 22 letters :
A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, L, M, N, O, P, a, b, c, d, e, f, g, h, i, j, l, m, n, o, p,
Q, R, S, T, U, V, Z.
q, r, s, t, u, v, z.

The English letters K, W, X, Y are only used in foreign words.

The names of the Italian letters are given on page 3. Of these letters, a, e, i, o, u are Vowels (vocáli), the remaining letters being consonants (consonánti).

2. Accents.—There is only one written accent (‘) in Italian, and it is used

- (a) To mark a contraction ; as, verità, truth; carità, charity ; written instead of carité, veritá, showing thus the suppression of a syllable, and preserving the accent of the word in its original place.
- (b) To give a different signification to the same word, as la, the, là, there ; da, from, dà, gives ; e, and, è, is.
- (c) On the third person singular of the Past Definite and on the first and third persons singular of the Future : as, egli amò, he loved ; io amerò, I shall love ; egli amerà, he will love.

NOTE 1.—The acute accent (‘) is never written in Italian, but in this work it is put for the sake of beginners upon every Italian word, except in the Exercises, in order to indicate the pronunciation ; as, un ángelo, an angel; un -mico, a friend.

2.—Some writers use the circumflex accent (^) to mark the contraction of two ‘s : as principi for principii, etc.

3. Apostrophe.—The Apostrophe shows that a vowel has been dropped, as l’ amico, the friend, instead of lo amico ; l’ ánima, the soul, instead of la ánima.

4. Genders.—There are two Genders: Masculine (mascolino) and Feminine (femminino).

5. Numbers.—There are two Numbers: Singular (singularé) and Plural (plurále).

6. Parts of Speech.—There are Nine Parts of Speech in the Italian language:

1. Article.	articolo.	5. Verb,	vérbo.
2. Substantive, or Noun,	sostantivo, or nóme.	6. Adverb,	avvérbio.
3. Adjective,	aggettivo.	7. Preposition,	preposizíone.
4. Pronoun,	pronóme.	8. Conjunction,	congiunzíone.
		9. Interjection,	interiezíone.

II.—PRONUNCIATION.

Every letter must be pronounced in Italian, as there are neither diphthongs nor mutes.

gn	sounds like ni in union :	as bagno, bath ;	rárgno, spider.
h	is never pronounced in Italian, and is used
	(a) to harden the sound of the lett. rs c and g when these precede the vowel e or i
	(b) to give different meanings to the same word: as anno, year ;
		hanno (they) have.

III.—THE ARTICLE (l'Articolo).

There are three Articles, the DEFINITE, the INDEFINITE, and the PARTITIVE.

1. DEFINITE ARTICLE.

	Masculine.	Feminine.
Singular	il, lo (l')*	la (l')
Plural	i, gli	le

Il is used before all masculine nouns beginning with a consonant, except the impure s and z; as, il párde, the father; il fratélo, the brother. Lo is used before masculine nouns beginning with the impure s, z or a vowel, but the o is dropped before a vowel: as, lo scóglia, the rock; lo zío, the uncle; l' ósso, the bone, instead of lo osso. I is the plural of il, and gli of lo; but the i of gli is only dropped before another i: as, lo scétro, the sceptre; gli scéttri, the sceptres; l' ingannatóre, the cheat; gl' ingannatóri, the cheats.

NOTE.—When a noun ends in gli, the g of the article is dropped to avoid the repetition of the same sound: as, li scógli, the rocks; li artigli, the claws.

NOTE.—The impure s is s followed by another consonant; as, sb, sc, sd, &c.

* The Article comes from the Latin demonstrative pronoun ille, illa.

La is used with all feminine nouns; but drops the a and takes an apostrophe when before a vowel: as, l'alliéva, the pupil (fem.), instead of la alliéva.

2. INDEFINITE ARTICLE.

Masculine.
uno, un.

Feminine.
una, un'.

Uno is used before masculine words beginning with the impure s or z; un is used before all other masculine nouns; una is used before all feminine nouns, except those beginning with a vowel, before which it drops the a and is written un': as, uno scácco, a chessboard; un amico, a friend (masc.); una madre, a mother; un' amica, a friend (fem.).

[3. THE PARTITIVE ARTICLE is given on page 14.]

The Article always agrees in gender and number with the Noun.

RULES ON THE USE OF THE VERB.

1. The Personal Pronoun is often omitted in Italian; as, Ho veduto mio fratello, I have seen my brother.

2. The interrogative is the same as in English; as, Ho io? Have I? Avéva io? Had I? See p. 56.

3. The negative non always precedes the Verb; as, Non ho veduto Carlo, I have not seen Charles; non hai tu visto mio fratello? Hast thou not seen my brother?

4. The Italians use the feminine pronoun Ella and the third person singular of the Verb, in addressing a stranger, or a superior; in which case the word Vossignoría, Your Lordship, is understood; as Ella ha il mio cappello (Our Lordship) has (you have) my hat.*

The second person plural, voi, you, is used in mercantile correspondence and in familiar conversation. The second person singular tu, thou, is used amongst friends and relations. Voi and tu are used towards servants. These rules are not strictly followed everywhere in Italy.

IX.—THE ADJECTIVE (l'Aggettivo).

There are six classes of Adjectives: qualificative, possessive, demonstrative, interrogative, numeral, and indefinite.

Qualificative Adjectives (Aggettivi qualificativi).

Qualificative Adjectives express the quality of persons or things: as, un uomo alto, a tall man; una bella pittura, a beautiful painting.

A. FORMATION OF THE FEMININE OF ADJECTIVES.

All Adjectives ending in o form their Feminine by changing o into a: as,

Masculine.	Feminine.
buono,	buona,	good.
alto,	alta,	tall.
cattivo,	cattiva,	bad.

All Adjectives ending in e are the same for both genders: as,

Masculine.	Feminine.
grande,	grande,	great.
amabile,	amabile,	amiable.
célébre,	célébre,	celebrated.

Many masculine Nouns in o have feminine forms in a like adjectives: as, il cugino, the male cousin, la cugina, the female cousin; il figlio, the son, la figlia, the daughter.

Masculine Nouns in ore have feminine forms in trice: as, l'attore, the actor, l'attrice, the actress; l'autore, the author, l'autrice, the authoress; il vincitore, the conqueror, la vincitrice, the female conqueror, and as adj. victorious.

Some nouns in ore have a double feminine: as, il traditore, the traitor, la traditóra and la traditrice, the traitress.

B. FORMATION OF THE PLURAL OF ADJECTIVES.

Adjectives form their plural in the same way as substantives: thus words in o and e form their plural in i, and words in a form their plural in e: as,

Masculine.	Feminine.
Singular. alto,	alta, } tall.
Plural. alti,	alte }
Singular. grande,	grande, }
Plural. grándi,	grándi, }

Adjectives ending in ca, or ga, form their plural in che, or ghe, in order to retain their hard sound: those in co, or go, sometimes form their plural in ci, or gi, and at other times in chi, or ghi: as,

	Masculine	Feminine.
Singular.	biánco,	biánca,

E. COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES.

Adjectives have three forms, called the Positive, Comparative and Superlative degrees.

There are three Comparatives: the comparative of superiority, the comparative of equality, and the comparative of inferiority. There are two Superlatives: the superlative of superiority, and the superlative of inferiority. The superlative is either absolute, by which a high degree is expressed without comparison, or relative: as Nápoli è una città grandíssima, è la più grande delle città Italiáne, Naples is a very great city, is the greatest of Italian cities; the first is a superlative absolute, the second a superlative relative of superiority.

1. The Comparative of superiority is formed by prefixing più, more, to the Positive, and the Superlative relative of superiority by prefixing il più, the most, to the Positive as,

Positive (Positivo).	Comparative (Comparativo).	Superlative (Superlativo)
Masc. áltó } tall.	più áltó	il più áltó.
Fem. áltá }	più áltá	la più áltá.
Masc. grande } great.	più grande	il più grande.
Fem. grande }	più grande	la più grande.

2. The Comparison of inferiority is formed by prefixing méno, less, to the Positive, and the Superlative relative of inferiority by prefixing il méno, the least, to the Positive: as.

	Positive.	Comparative.	Superlative.
Masc.	crudéle	méno crudéle	il méno crudéle.
Fem.	crudéle	méno crudéle	la méno crudéle.
Masc.	sécco	méno sécco	il méno sécco.
Fem.	sécca	méno sécca	la méno sécca.

3. The Superlative absolute is formed by adding the termination íssimo to the Positive deprived of its final letter: as,

	Positive.	Superlative.
Masc.	grande	grandíssimo
Fem.	grande	grandíssima

very great.

EXCEPTIONS.

1. Adjectives ending in ro and re preceded by a consonant drop their ro and re and add érímo to make their Superlative absolute: as,

	Positive.	Superlative.
Masc.	ácre	acérímo.
Fem.	ácre	acérrima.
Masc.	intégro	integérímo.
Fem.	intégra	integéríma.
Masc.	célébre	celebérímo.
Fem.	célébre	celebéríma.

2. Adjectives ending in dico, fico, and volo drop the last letter and add entíssimo to make their Superlative absolute: as,

	Positive.	Superlative.
Masc.	malédico	maledicentíssimo.
Fem.	malédica	maledicentíssima.
Masc.	benéfico	beneficentíssimo.
Fem.	benéfica	beneficentíssima.
Masc.	benévolo	benevolentíssimo.
Fem.	benévola	benevolentíssima.

NOTE.—The above forms follow the Latin: as, acer, acerrimus, maledicus, maledicentissimus.

Irregular Comparison.

The following Adjectives have their Comparative and Superlative irregular: thus—

Positive.	Comparative.	Superl. Rel.	Superl. Absol.
buono , a , good .	migliore	il, la migliore	ótimo, a
malo , { a, } bad .	peggiore	il, la peggiore	péssimo, a
cattivo , { a, }

Positive.	Comparative.	Superl. Rel.	Superl. Absol.
*grande, great .	maggioré	il, la maggioré	mássimo, a *piccolo, a, small .	minore	il, la minore	mínimo, a *alto, a, high .	superiore	il, la superiore	{supiérrno, a
*basso, a, low .	inferiore	l' inferiore,	{sómmo, a ínfimo, a

Those marked with an asterisk form their Comparative and Superlative relative also in the regular way.

2. The following Adjectives have no positive :—

Comparative.	Superlative.
posteriore, later .	postrémo, last .
esteriore, exterior .	estrémo, extreme , last .
interiore, interior .	íntimo, inward , intimate .
priore, former .	príño, first
ulteriore, further .	último, last .
citeriore, on this side .
anteriore, former , foregoing .	próssimo, next .

REMARKS.

1. The comparison of equality, as . . . as or so . . . as, is formed by placing the adjectives or nouns between così . . . che, or tanto . . . quanto: as,

Giovánni è così ricco che Piétro, John is as rich as Peter.

La távola è tanto lárga quanto lúnga, the table is as broad as long.

2. The English than after the Comparative is expressed in two ways, either by the Genitive or by che.

(i) The genitive is used when the comparative is followed by a noun or a pronoun: as,

Il sóle è più grande délla lúna, the sun is larger than the moon.

Il léone è meno crudéle délla tigre, the lion is less cruel than the tiger.

Tu séi più grande di me, thou art taller than I.

(ii) Che is used when there is a comparison between two nouns without an adjective: as,

Égli è più pittóre che scultóre, he is more a painter than a sculptor.

(iii) Che is used when the comparison is between two adjectives: as,

Égli è più fortunáto che prudénte, he is more fortunate than prudent.

(iv) Che is used when two verbs are compared, and non is used if no negative precedes: as,

Voi parláte più che non pensáte, you speak more than you think.

But in many cases it is indifferent whether the comparison is expressed by the Genitive or che.

F. MODIFICATIONS OF ADJECTIVES AND NOUNS.

(Augmentatives and Diminutives.)

A peculiarity of the Italian language is the power of modifying an Adjective or a Noun by changing its termination, so as to augment or diminish the original meaning of the word: thus, véccchio, old, is changed into vecchiétto, a little old man; vecchióne, a very old man; vecchiáccio, an ugly old man; &c.

1. The terminations óne, úto, denote increase: as, pórtá, a door, portóne, a large door or gate; ricco, rich, riccóne, enormously rich; násó, a nose, nasóne, a large nose; nasúto, adj., with a long nose.

2. The termination ótto denotes strength: as, gióvine, youth, giovinótto, a strong young man; contadína, a country-woman, contadinótta, a strong countrywoman.

3. The terminations áccio, ástro, ázzo, áglia suggest something bad: as, gióvine, youth, giovinástro, a bad young man; víno, wine, vináccio, bad wine; médico, doctor, medi-cástro, quack; plébe, people, plebáglio, mob.

4. The terminations íno, éttó, éllo, erélló, suggest diminution together with fondness: as, cáro, dear, caríno, little dear; máno, hand, manína, little hand; véccchio, old man, vecchiétto, dear little old man, or, vécchierélló.

5. The terminations uólo, úccio, úzzo, úcio, úciolo, ígno, ógnolo denote diminution with contempt: as, líbro, book, librúccio, worthless little book; vérde, green, verdógnolo, greenish; &c.

6. Words already modified can undergo a second modification: as, cápra, goat, capréttó, young goat, caprettíno, small young goat; fióre, flower, fiorélló, little flower, fiorellíno, dear little flower; etc.

7. Some words, thus modified, have altogether lost their original meaning, and have become new words with new meanings : as, città, city, cittadella, citadel; pádre, father, padríno, god-father, &c.

It is not every word that can be modified in Italian, but it is impossible to give any rule, as there are no fixed rules for the use of these modifications.

These terminations greatly enrich the Italian language, but their use is only to be learnt by long practice and knowledge of the best Italian authors.

* None of these nouns or adjectives should be translated into Italian by itself, but the noun or adjective they qualify should be translated in the Italian modified form.

2. Possessive Adjectives (Aggettivi Possessivi).

The Possessive Adjectives are—

Singular.		Plural.		English.
Masc.	Fem.	Masc.	Fem.
il mío ,	la mía ,	i miéi ,	le míe ,	my.
il túo ,	la túa ,	i tuói ,	le túe ,	thy.
il súo ,	la súa ,	i suói ,	le súe ,	his, her, its.
il nóstro ,	la nóstra ,	i nóstri ,	le nóstre ,	our.
il vóstro ,	la vóstra ,	i vóstri ,	le vóstre ,	your.
il lóro ,*	la lóro ,	i lóro ,	le lóro .	their.

1. When the Possessive Adjective precedes in the Singular words expressing relationship or titles, no article is used with it : as, mío pádre, my father; túa zía, thy aunt; súo cugíño, his cousin (m.); Vóstra Maestà, your Majesty.

But if the possessive is in the Plural or follows the words expressing relationship or titles, the article must be used : as, i vóstri genítori, your parents; il pádre mío, my father; la Maestà Vóstra, your Majesty, etc.†

The article is also used when another adjective precedes these words : as, il mío cáro pádre, my dear father; la mía cára mádre, my dear mother.

NOTE.—Loro is never changed, and always takes the article, even with words expressing relationship : as, il lóro pádre, their father; la lóro mádre, their mother; i lóro figli, their sons; le lóro figlie, their daughters.

2. The Possessive Adjectives agree with their Substantives in gender and number. In English, the Possessive Adjective in the Object or Accusative agrees in gender with the Subject of the sentence, but in Italian it agrees in gender with the Object : as, Cárlo ha visto súa mádre, Charles has seen his mother.

Vóstra sorélla ha visto súo pádre, your sister has seen her father.

La mádre áma i suói figli, the mother loves her sons.

Il pádre áma le súe figlie, the father loves his daughters.

3. When his, her, refer not to the subject of the sentence, but to some other noun, the genitive of the Third Personal Pronoun, di lúi, di léi, is used : as,

Cárlo ha visto súa sorélla, ed i figli di léi, Charles has seen his sister and her children.

I suói figli would mean the children of Charles.

* Loro, from the Latin illorum, Fr. leur.

† If these words are modified (see F, pp. 34-35), they take the article : as, il mío fratellino, my little brother; la mía sorellina, my little sister.

4. As E'lla is used in politely addressing a person (see p. 19), so súo or di léi are used for the English your, and are then written with a capital letter: as,

Io ho il Súo cappélo, or io ho il cappélo di Léi, I have your hat.

cotésto,†	cotéstá,	cotéstí,	cotésté,	that, those (near you).
quélló,†	quéllá,	quélli,	quéllé,	that, those (yonder).

1. Quésto refers to a person or thing near the speaker; cotéstó to a person or thing near the person addressed; and quélló to a person or thing at a distance.

2. Quélli, the pl., is usually changed into quégli before a vowel or impure s: as, quégli onóri, those honours.

The English forms I do love, I am loving, I did love, I was loving, etc., are to be translated in Italian by io amo, I love; io amava, I loved, etc.

EXAMPLE OF THE PRESENT INDICATIVE OF AMÁRE.

Interrogative.	Negative.	Interrog. with a Neg.
Do I love ? etc.	I do not love, etc.	Do I not love ? etc.
ámo io ?	io non ámo.	non ámo io ?
ámi tu ?	tu non ámi.	non ámi tu ?
áma egli ?	egli non áma.	non áma egli ?
amámo nós ?	nós non amámo.	nou amámo nós ?
amáte vóis ?	vóis non amáte.	non amáte vóis ?
ámano églinos ?	églino non ámano.*	non ámano églino ?

EXERCISE XXII.

Write out all the Tenses of the Indicative and Conditional Moods of trovare, to find; vendere, to sell; servire, to serve;—in the Interrogative form, the Negative form, and the Interrogative form with a Negative.

* The second person singular of the imperative negative is formed with the present of the infinitive: as, non amáre, do not love; non temere, do not fear, &c.

XIV.—AFFINITIES OF THE ITALIAN AND LATIN VERBS.

1. As almost all Italian words end with a vowel, we must first suppress the final consonants of the Latin verb, in order to see the affinities of the verb in the two languages.

The following letters are often interchanged, their sound being approximate. B is exchanged with v; e with i; d with t; o with u; ss with x: as, amáva instead of amábam; amáte for amátis; réssero for rexerunt, etc.

2. The Infinitive is the same in both languages, ending in are, ere, and ire. The Latin Second and Third Conjugations in ēre (long), and ēre (short), form one conjugation in Italian; that is, the Second. Some Latin verbs ending in ēre (long) become in Italian are; as, vovēre, to vow, becomes votáre. Some other Latin verbs ending in ēre (long) become in Italian īre; as, favēre, to favour, becomes favorire. The similarity of the Tenses will be seen by their juxtaposition.

NOTE.—In the Perfect Indicative the v in the Italian is dropped. The Imperfect Subjunctive is formed from the Latin Pluperfect, the vi being dropped.

3. The Future is not formed from the Latin, as some suppose, but from the present tense of avére joined to the Infinitive of the verb: as, amerò from amare-ho, “I have to love,” amerái from amare-hai, &c.

XV.—PECULIARITIES OF SOME VERBS OF THE FIRST CONJUGATION.

The following seeming irregularities of some Verbs of the First Conjugation, are no real irregularities, but take place in order to preserve the original sound of its Infinitive; thus,

1. Verbs ending in care or gare, as mancáre, to fail; pagáre, to pay; take an h after c or g, when these precede e or i. This is done in order to preserve to the c and g the hard sound of the Infinitive, as ío máńco.	ío págo.

tu máńchi.	tu pághi.
égli máńca.	égli pága.
nóí manchiámo.	nóí paghiámo.

2. Verbs ending in ciáre, giáre, sciáre, as, cominciáre, to begin; passeggiáre, to walk; lasciáre, to leave, in which the i only serves to indicate the soft pronunciation, drop this i before e or i, as

ío comíncio.	io passéggio.	io láscio
tu comínci (one i).	tu passégg (one i).	tu láscí (one i).
fut. tu comincerái.	tu passeggerái.	tu lascerái.

3. Verbs ending in chiáre and gliáre drop the i only before another i; as pigliáre, to take .	invecchiáre, to become old .

io píglío.	io invécchio.
tu pigli (one i).	tu invécchi (one i).
tu piglierái.	tu invecchierái.

4. Verbs ending in iáre, when the i of the termination is preceded by another vowel, drop the i before another i, as, annoiáre, to annoy;

io annoíio.
tu annoí (one i).

When these verbs however have the accent on the i in the first person singular of the Present of the Indicative, they follow the general rule.

spíáre, to spy .
io spío, I spy .
tu spíi.

In which case both i's must be distinctly pronounced.

XVIII.—COMPLEMENTS OF VERBS.

1. The Complement of a Verb is a word which completes the sense of a sentence: as, il maestro loda lo scoláre, the master praises the pupil, the pupil is called the Complement of that sentence.

2. There are two kinds of Complements, i. e.,

(a) The Direct Complement, which is put in the accusative case, as in the above example; and,

(b) The Indirect Complement, as, io ho scritto una léttera a mia madre, I have written a letter to my mother, to my mother being here the Indirect Complement of the Verb scrivere, to write.

3. The Direct Complement being the same in Italian as in English, does not require further explanations: io amo mio párde; I love my father; io bervo áequa, I drink water; io légo un libro, I read a book, etc.

4. The Indirect Complement in Italian differs greatly from the English, and requires further explanations.

(a) In the sentence

John gives his brother a hat,

the Italians invert the order of these words,

John gives a hat to his brother;

translating

Giovánni dà uno cappéollo a suo fratéollo.

In the above example the Direct Complement un cappéollo comes immediately after the verb dà, and precedes the Indirect Complement suo fratéollo.

As a general rule the Direct Complement is put in the Accusative Case, and the Indirect Complement in the Dative Case; as, égli mandò mio fratéollo álla póstta, he sent my brother to the post-office; io insérgo la língua telesca a mio fratéollo, I teach the German language to my brother; égli diéde un libro a suo párde, he gave his father a book.

(b) If the Direct Complement is a Verb in the Infinitive Mood, it is generally preceded by a, or da; as,

La m dre ins gna a leggere \'alla f glia.

The mother teaches reading to the daughter.

D a a mangiare \'agli a\'m tati.

Give to eat to the hungry.

D a a bere \'agli a\'st tati.

Give to drink to the thirsty.

(c) If f re, to do, to make, and lasciare, to let, precede a transitive verb, the signification of the sentence changes with the position of the Indirect Complement; as,

Io féci scrivere una lettera a mio fratello.
I ordered a letter to be written to my brother.
 Io féci scrivere a mio fratello una lettera.
I ordered my brother to write a letter.

XIX.—THE PRONOUN (il Pronóme).

The Pronouns (Pronómi) are used to avoid the repetition of preceding Nouns. They are of six kinds. Personal (personalé), Demonstrative (demonstrativo), Possessive (possessivo), Interrogative (interrogativo), Relative (relativo), and Indefinite (indefinito).

A. Personal Pronouns (Pronómi Personáli).

There are two kinds of Personal Pronouns: Absolute (assoluti), and Conjunctive (congiúnti). The difference between these two kinds of Personal Pronouns is shown in the following Examples.

Conjunctive Pronoun. { Give me an orange.
 Dátemi un' aráncia

Absolute Pronoun. { Give an orange to me, and not to my brother.
 Dáte un' aráncia a me, e nou a mío fráteollo.

In the first example the idea conveyed by the Verb dáte, give, bears more upon aráncia, orange, than upon mi, to me: in the second example the contrary takes place, and the Verb lays its stress on the Pronoun a me.

The Conjunctive Pronoun is generally joined to the Verb, if coming after the Verb, and hence its name.

Dat.	si,	to himself, to herself, to itself, to themselves.
Acc.	si,	himself, herself, itself, themselves.

REMARKS.

1. The Conjunctive Personal Pronouns precede the Verb in the Indicative, Conditional, and Subjunctive Moods. They also precede the Verb in the Imperative used negatively: as,

Non mi dáre délle bastonáte, do not give me a thrashing.

Io ti do un' aráncia, I g've you an orange.

Io vi védó, I see you.

Tu gli dái un regáló, thou givest him a present.

Élla si rguár la néollo spéccchio, she looks at herself in the looking-glass

Égli mi ha dátó un cappélo, he has given me a hat.

Tu le hái dátó ún i spíl a, thou hast giveu her a pin.

Non mi dáre l'anélio óra, do not g've me the ring now.

Ch' égli mi ámi, that he may love me.

2. When two Conjunctive Personal Pronouns, one in the dative and the other in the accusative, are in the same sentence, they both precede the Verb, the dative before the accusative; the i of mi, ti, ci, vi, being changed into e; and gli taking an e before the accusative with which it is joined: as,

Égli me lo dísse, he said it to me.

Io te lo díssi, I said it to thee.

Églino ce lo díssero, they said it to us.

Élla ve lo díse, she said it to you.

Io gliélo dirò, I shall tell it to him.

3. Le, to her, is never used before lo, la, li, le, ne; gli taking its place for the sake of euphony: thus,

Io gliélo do, I give it to her. Io gliélo do, I give it to you; or,
Io lo do a léi, I give it to her. Io lo do a Léi, I give it to you.

4. The Conjunctive Personal Pronouns follow the Verb in the Imperative (except when used Negatively), Infinitive, Gerund, and Past Participle, and are joined to the Verb, the Infinitive dropping its final vowel: thus,

Ámo vedérvi, I am glad to see you.

Mostrátemelo, show it to me.

Parlándomi di te, speaking to me of thee.

Vedútomi, disse, having seen me, said.

Dátole una lettera, disse, having given her a letter, said . . .

5. When the Verb is a monosyllable, or has an accent on its last vowel, these pronouns follow the verb and are joined to it, the consonant of the pronoun being doubled and the accent dropped (except gli);* thus we say:

Lo farò, and faróllo,	I shall do it.
Farógiela leggere,
Gliéla farò legge.re,	I shall have him read it.
Diróvvelo, and ve lo dirò,	I shall tell you it.
L'amò, or amólla,	he, she loved her.
Ci dà, or dácci,	he, she gives us.

6. Lóro, to them, precedes or follows the verb: as,

Egli dísse lóro,	he said to them.
Egli lóro ha dáto,	he has given to them.

7. The Dative of the Personal Pronouns is sometimes used instead of the Possessive Adjective: as,

Io gli sóno amíeo,	I am his friend.
Io sóno súo amíco,

8. In speaking of parts of the body, or dress, the Italians use the Dative Pronoun instead of the Possessive Adjective: as,

Mi duóle la tésta,	my head aches.
Ti si è sdrucíta la scárpa,	thy shoe is torn.
Si è rótta la gámba,	he has broken his leg.

FURTHER REMARKS ON PERSONAL PRONOUNS.

1. When the Personal Pronoun is followed by che, the Verb agrees with the Personal Pronoun: as,

Tu che mi ámi,	thou that lovest me.
Nóis che trovámmo la stráda,	we that found the way.
Vóis che fóste puníto,	you that were punished.

2. The Pronouns are often omitted, when the sense of the sentence is not obscured: as,

Ámo mío pádre,	I love my father.
Abbi pazéntza,	have (thou, patiente).
É tempo perdítio,	it is a loss of time.

3. If the Personal Pronoun refers to a thing, a verb must precede it: if the Pronoun refers to a person, no verb is needed before it: as,

Cercáte il mio cappello, non pôssò uscire sénza avérlo.

Look for my hat; I cannot go out without it (having).

Cercáte mio figlio, non pôssò uscire sénza lui.

Look for my son; I cannot go out without him.

4. The Conjunctive Pronouns ne, of it; ci, vi, to it, are often used in the singular, and then refer only to things and never to persons: as,

Che cosa ne pensáte? what do you think of it?

Che cosa pensáte di lui? what do you think of him?

Che cosa ci avéte a far voi? what have you to do with it?

5. Ne is sometimes used instead of ci, us, to us: as,

Ne dícono, they tell us. Egli ne ha dâto, he has given us.

But this form of speaking is to be avoided.

6. Before lui, léi, lóro, and before nouns, esso is used to strengthen the expression: as,

Andái con esso lúi al teátro,	I went with him to the theatre.
Quest' órdine fu ricevûto da esso	this order has been received from the
ministéro,	ministry.

7. Instead of the accusative masculine lo, il, is used before words beginning with a consonant (except z or s impura).

When preceded by mi, ti, si, gli, ci, vi, or non, the i of il is dropped, and both words are contracted thus:

me'l, or mel díce, tells it to me.	ve'l, or vel díce, tells it to you.
te'l, or tel díce, tells it to thee.	se'l, or sel díce, tells it to him-
glie'l, or giel díce, tells it to him.	self.
ce'l, or cel díce, tells it to us.	no'l, or nol díce, does not tell it.

8. Conjunctive Personal Pronouns in the accusative are often affixed to the adverb écco, here it is: as, Eccovi venûto, here you are come. Eccolo quì! here he is!

9. In answering questions, the Italians have a different form from the English Yes, I am; Yes, I do, &c.

(a) If the answer refers to a noun with the definite article or a demonstrative adjective, then the verb in the answer requires a personal pronoun agreeing with the foregoing noun: as,

Siéte voi le zíe di quéstó fanciúllo? Sì, noi le siámo.

Are you the unts of this boy? Yes, we are.

Sóno quélí i vóstri stiváli? Sì, li sóno.

Are those your boots? Yes, they are.

(b) If the answer refers to an adjective, verb, or noun (without definite article or demonstrative adjective), the pronoun lo is used : as,

È Élla ammaláta? Sì, lo sóno. Are you ill? Yes, I am.
 Sóno le túe sorélle arriváte? Sì, Are your sisters arrived? Yes, they are.
 Sóno Italiáni colóro? Sì, lo sóno. Are they Italians? Yes, they are.

10. When referring to a foregoing noun substantive in the genitive case, the English use some, or any; when they refer to the dative, they use there; and when they refer to the ablative they use from there, thereby. In these cases the Italians use for the genitive and ablative NE, and for the dative ci, or vi (changed into ce and ve when preceding lo, la, li, le, ne): as,

Ecco del víno; ne vuóle Élla?	Here is some wine; do you want any?
Ne beverò un bicchiére.	I shall drink a glass (of it).
Va Élla a Lóndra?	Are you going to London? No, I come from there.
É mio fratello nel giardíno?	Is my brother in the garden? Yes, he is there.

XXII.—REFLECTIVE VERBS (Vérbi Pronomináli).

All Reflective Verbs are conjugated with a second Pronoun (besides the subject), which is put in the accusative, and sometimes in the dative; the action of the subject being reflected or returning upon itself as,

Io mi sóno ingannáto, I have been mistaken.

Elleno si scrivono, they (fem.) write to each other.

Many English Neuter Verbs are rendered in Italian with a Reflective Verb: thus, io mi rallégro, I rejoice (myself).

When the Reflective Pronoun is in the accusative the Compound Tenses of the Reflective Verbs are conjugated with the auxiliary éssere, and the Past Participle agrees with the subject; as, tu ti séi ammaláto, thou hast fallen ill.

When the Reflective Pronoun is in the Dative, the Reflective Verbs take either avére, or éssere, and the Past Participle remains unchanged; as,

Elleno si hánno inviáto de' regáli, They (f.) sent presents to each other.

REMARKS.

1. When the Reflective Verb is conjugated negatively, the Negative is always placed before the Reflective Pronoun. Thus, in Rallegrársi, to rejoice, the Indicative Present is as follows :

io non mi rallégro,
 tu non ti rallégti,
 égli non si rallégra,
 nóni non ci rallegriamo,
 vóti non vi rallegráte,
 églino non si rallégrano,

I do not rejoice (myself). .
thou dost not rejoice (thyself). .
he does not rejoice (himself). .
we do not rejoice (ourselves). .
you do not rejoice (yourselves). .
they do not rejoice (themselves). .

2. The Reflective Verb is conjugated Interrogatively as follows :

mi rallégro io ?
 ti rallégti tu ?
 si rallégra égli ?
 ci rallegriamo nóni ?
 vi rallegráte vóti ?
 si rallégrano églino ?

do I rejoice (myself) ?
dost thou rejoice (thyself) ?
does he rejoice (himself) ?
do we rejoice (ourselves) ?
do you rejoice (yourselves) ?
do they rejoice (themselves) ?

3. The Reflective Verb used Interrogatively with a Negative, is conjugated as follows :

non mi rallégro io ?
 non ti rallégti tu ?
 non si rallégra égli ?
 non ci rallegriamo nóni ?

XXIII.—IMPERSONAL VERBS (Vérbi Impersonáli).

Impersonal Verbs are either really impersonal, i. e., they have no other form but the third person, or they are used as Impersonal, although they may be conjugated like other Verbs.

1. Impersonal Verbs, really so, are:—

accáde,	it happens.	grándina,	it hails. avviéne,		lampéggia,	it lig.tens. didiáccia,	it thaws.	névica,	it snows.
dimóia,		pióve,	it rains.
gála,	it freezes.	tuóna,	it thunders. ghiáccia,

2. Verbs used impersonally are:—

básta,	it is enough.	páre,	it seems. bisógna,	it is necessary.	piáce,	it pleases. conviéne,	it is proper.	sémbra,	it seems. rincorésee,	it pains.	s'inténde,	it is understood.
occórre,	it is wanted.	duóle,	it is painful.

Besides these, many other Verbs are formed impersonally with the third person singular of fáre, éssere, and avére: thus, fa bel témpo,	it is fine weather.	fa sóle,	it is sunny.

fa cattivo témpo,	it is bad weather.	fa vénто,	it is windy.
fa oáldo,	it is hot.	fa úmido,	it is damp. fa chíáro dilúna,	it is moonlight.	é témpo,	it is time. fa fréddo,	it is cold.	é méglío,	it is better.
fa pólvere,	it is dusty.	v' ha témpo,	there is time, etc.

The irregular Verb dovére (see p. 146) is used for the English must, to be obliged: the following verb being put in the Infinitive without a preposition, as : Io dévo scívere, I must write; tu dévi venir, thou shalt be obliged to come:

Bisogna is often used instead of dovére and does not take a preposition before the Infinitive, if used in a general sense, as : bisogna vivere, one must live. If however there is a noun or pronoun subject of the sentence, the verb following bisogna must be put in the Subjunctive, as : bisogna che noi viviamo, we must live. Avére da is used also for must, as : ho da dárigli úno scúlo, I must give him a dollar.

Bisognare means to want if conjugated as a pronominal verb, as : mi bisogna un cappélo nuóvo, I want a new hat.

3. The Compound Tenses of the Impersonal Verbs take the Auxiliary avére when the verb is transitive, as : ha suonáto mezzanótte, it has struck midnight; and the Auxiliary éssere or avére when the verb is really impersonal, as ; è piovúto la nótte scórsa, it has rained last night; ha nevicáto oggi, it has snowed to-day.

4. There is, there are, there will be, etc., are rendered with ci or vi è, vi sóno, vi sarà, etc.

XXIV.—ADVERBS (Avvérbi).

The Adverbs are used to modify verbs, adjectives, or other adverbs, and are invariable.

There are eight different kinds of Adverbs in Italian; they are:

(a.) Adverbs of time,	avrérbi di témpo.
(b.) Adverbs of place,	avrérbi di luógo.
(c.) Adverbs of manner,	avrérbi di módo.
(d.) Adverbs of quantity,	avrérbi di quantità.
(e.) Adverbs of affirmation,	avrérbi affermativi.
(f.) Adverbs of negation,	avrérbi negativi.
(g.) Adverbs of doubt,	avrérbi di dúbio.
(h.) Adverbial expressions,	módi avvertiáli.

The Adverbs are either naturally so, as: óra, now; sémpre, always: or are formed from adjectives or participles, as facilménte, easily; passionatamente, passionately; píano, quietly, etc.

REMARKS.

1. Adverbs are formed from Adjectives ending in e (not preceded by l or r) by adding ménte; as

ADJECTIVES.	ADVERBS.
costánte,	constant.
felice,	happy.
dólee,	sweet.
costantemente,	constantly.
felicemente,	happily.
dolosamente,	sweetly.

2. Adjectives ending in e preceded by l or r drop the final e and take mente to become Adverbs : as,

ADJECTIVES.

fácil ,	easy.
diffícile ,	difficult.
particoláre ,	particular.
esterióre ,	external.

ADVERBS.

facilménte ,	easily.
difficilménte ,	with difficulty.
particolarménte ,	particularly.
esteriorménte ,	externally.

3. Adjectives ending in o are changed into Adverbs by adding mente to their feminine singular : as,

ADJECTIVES.

pígro ,	lazy.
modéstio ,	modest.
sággio ,	wise.

ADVERBS.

pigraménte ,	lazily.
modestaménte ,	modestly.
saggiaménte ,	wisely.

4. Some masculine Adjectives are also used as Adverbs without undergoing any modification : as, présto, quickly; fixso, fixedly, etc.

5. Only the first and second of the Ordinal Numbers can become adverbs : as, primieramente, first; secondiamente, secondly. Thirdly, fourthly, etc., are translated in terzo luógo, in quárto luógo, etc.

6. Adverbs form their Comparatives and Superlatives like the Adjectives, the adverbial ending ménte being added : as,

Positive.	Comparative.	Superlative Relative.	Superlative Absolute
felioeménte ,	più feliceménte ,	il p ù feliceménte ,	felicissimaménte .
facilménte ,	più facilménte ,	il più facilménte ,	facilissimaménte .

7. The following real Adverbs form their Comparatives and Superlatives irregularly.

Positive.	Comparative.	Relative.	Superlative.	Absolute.
béne , well ,	méglia , better ,	il méglia , best .	beníssimo ,	very

moltó , very ,	più , more ,	il più , most .	malíssimo ,	very
póco , little ,	ménos , less ,	il ménos , least .	pessimaménte ,	badly .
			moltíssimo , very much .
			pochíssimo , very little .

8. Béne, mále and póco sometimes take the augmentative and diminutive terminations one and ino : as malón, very badly; beníno, pretty well; pochíno, very little.

9. Adverbs may be repeated in order to increase their meaning: as, or óra, just presently, etc., or be made superlative a second time, even when they are already really superlative: as, assái, very; assaíssimo, very much.

10. Adjectives are used adverbially when they modify the subject rather than the verb: as, egli era físso a guárdarlo, he was looking at him fixedly.

non . . pánto, not at all.

REMARKS.

1. Non precedes the verb in Italian (see p. 56) : as,
 Io non amo, I do not love. | Io non voglio, I will not, &c.

2. Non is strengthened by the addition of mica, punto, which follow the verb, whilst non precedes the verb : as, non amo punto il vino, I do not like wine at all.

 non lo credo mica, I do not believe it at all.

3. After verbs conveying ideas of negation, or hindrance, non is used in the accessory sentence ; as the consequence is just what is denied or hindered from taking place : thus,

Egli nega che la donna non sia morta.
He denies that the woman is (not) dead.
 Proibirò che Carlo non gli cada vittima.
I shall forbid Charles to fall his victim.

4. When a negative verb is used with non, this must be repeated in the accessory sentence : as,

Non nego ch' egli non mi ami.
I do not deny that he does (not) love me.

5. After a verb expressing doubt, non is required.

(a) If the accessory sentence is not in the negative, the second verb is put in the subjunctive with non : as,

Temo che non muoia, I fear he may die.
 Dubito che non venga, I fear he might come.

(b) If the accessory sentence is used negatively, then the second verb must be used in the future with non : as,

Temo che non morrà, I fear he will not die.
 Dubito che non verrà, I fear he might not come.

6. Nè . . . nè require non before the verb which precedes them : as,

Egli non beve nè acqua nè vino, He drinks neither water nor wine.

7. If the first part of the sentence includes a comparative of augmentation or diminution, without a negative, then the non may be used in the second part of that sentence, the verb being changed from the Subjunctive to the Indicative Mood : as,

Egli è più ricco che noi pensassimo.
 Egli è più ricco che noi non pensavamo.
He is richer than we thought.

Except me, there was nobody.

NOTE.—The preposition is sometimes omitted in Italian in the following cases :—

(a) When words are joined together : as, caposcuóla, capocáccia, capopárte, instead of cápo DÉLLA scuóla, head or founder of the school (of arts); cápo DÉLLA cáccia, head of the hunt; cápo DÉLLA párté, leader of the party. In the plural, only the first word is modified: capiscuóla, capicáccia, capipárte.

(b) In cása Strozzi, in the house of Strozzi; véngo da cása Palmíeri, I come from the house of Palmieri, &c.

(c) The preposition A is omitted in the dative of the personal pronouns mi, ti, ci, vi, le, gli, lóro, si (see p. 78).

XXVI.—CONJUNCTIONS (Congiunzioni).

Conjunctions are of two kinds in Italian, i. e., copulative when used to join words or sentences, and disjunctive when employed to separate them.

A. COPULATIVE CONJUNCTIONS.

nè . . . nè,	neither . . . nor.	altresì,	besides.

XXVIII.—IRREGULAR VERBS (Vérbi Irregolári).

Irregular Verbs may be divided into three classes. They follow in most, though not in all, cases the Perfects and Supines of the Latin verbs from which they are derived.

The FIRST CLASS includes all those verbs which have their irregularities in common with other verbs, so that they can be classed together in different groups, according to their irregularities. In each group we give only the irregularities of one Verb, the other Verbs of the same group being understood to be conjugated in the same way.

The SECOND CLASS includes all those Verbs, the irregularities of which cannot be subjected to any rule. This Class also includes Verbs which have only the Past Participle irregular.

The THIRD CLASS contains all the Defective Verbs.

THE FIRST CLASS.

The following Verbs, almost all belonging to the Second Conjugation, have the first and third persons of the Singular, and the third person of the Plural irregular in the Past Definite and also an irregular Past Participle.

NOTE.—The etymology of the Italian words is given after the English meanings. When derived from the Latin they were generally formed from the Accusative case, but as the final m was dropped they have often the form of the Ablative. In the list below, the Latin is given in the Nominative case. When the French words have the same origin as the Italian, they are frequently added.

A Spanish Grammar

FOR THE USE OF SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

By SAMUEL GARNER, Ph.D.

Recently Professor of Modern Languages U. S. Naval Academy

Cloth, 12mo, 415 pages Price, $1.25

This grammar gives, in clear and concise outline, the essential features of the language. The author combines, in an unusual degree, an intimate knowledge of the Spanish language and of its idioms rarely found save in a native Spaniard, with the pedagogical devices and the insight into the needs of American students which only an American instructor of long experience can possess. The union of these two features places the book in the front rank of practical working text-books.

An especially serviceable feature of the book is the introduction of numerous business letters and forms, copied from those actually used by one of the leading Spanish firms in this country. Both the exercises and the Spanish reading matter, covering, as they do, a very wide range of subjects, embrace many features which serve as an introduction to an acquaintance with the commercial and social life of Spanish-speaking countries. No other grammar so thoroughly meets this want, and a mastery of its contents will place the student in a position where he may readily develop and apply his linguistic knowledge along these lines.

In view of the constantly growing importance of our relations with our Spanish-speaking possessions and neighbors, a book which will equip the student thoroughly with an accurate and ready knowledge of the language both for reading and conversation is an essential in all schools. Embodying methods employed and tested in many years of class-room instruction, this is such a book, and its use cannot fail to give results amply proportionate to the study expended on it.

Text-Books in French

BY ANTOINE MUZZARELLI

Officier d'Académie; author of "Les Antonymes de la Langue Française," "English Antonyms," "French Classics," etc.

MUZZARELLI'S ACADEMIC FRENCH COURSE—First Year . $1.00

Second Year 1.00

Keys to First and Second Years : : : : : Each, 1.00

The Academic French Course embodies in two books a complete system of instruction in the French language for English-speaking pupils. The course is remarkable for the simplicity of its grammatical treatment and for the carefully selected vocabulary employed in the exercises and translations. It is eminently practical, advancing in a constant gradation from the easiest of first steps to those more difficult. Only essential rules are given, and those in the most concise form. Besides the usual grammatical drill, it includes lessons in conversational form, entitled "A Trip to Paris," replete with information of the most practical kind and largely increasing the student's vocabulary with an extensive variety of expressions in daily use among the educated classes in France.

MUZZARELLI'S BRIEF FRENCH COURSE $1.25

This is prepared on the same general lines, and though brief is comprehensive. The grammatical topics discussed have been wisely chosen, and all topics of primary importance are fully treated. The exercises in reading and writing French furnish abundant practice on all points of syntax. The book contains a valuable chapter on French Phonetics, as well as the poetry prescribed for memorizing by the Regents of the University of the State of New York. It is especially noteworthy in that it conforms in all respects to the radical reform incorporated in the new laws of syntax officially promulgated by the Minister of Public Instruction of the French Republic, on March 11, 1901.

For Teachers of French

Introductory French Prose Composition - - 25 cents

Advanced French Prose Composition - - 80 cents

By VICTOR E. FRANÇOIS

Instructor in French in the University of Michigan

THESE BOOKS furnish ample materials for thorough drill on the constructions and idioms of the French language, embodied in a large variety of entertaining and helpful exercises.

The first book, by the use of a connected story, maintains a unity of thought and interest throughout the reading lessons. It offers, in addition:—Progressive Grammar Exercises in connection with a thorough review of the subjects indicated at the head of the French text; Progressive Exercises in Transposition, which will be found the best possible means for the quick and intelligent mastering of French verbs; Questions for drill on the text of the Transposition Exercises; Grammar drills for the purpose of a systematic review of the elements of French grammar; Exercises in Translation and for General Review, so that the pupil may be perfectly familiarized with all important words, constructions, and idiomatic expressions; and a Vocabulary of all the French words used in the book.

The second book is designed for the second year in colleges, or the third and fourth years in high schools. Grammar reviews are combined with translation work, based on selections in French, and suggestive questions refer to these selections. Numerous references are made to the new grammatical rules promulgated by the Minister of Public Instruction of France in his decree of February 26, 1901, the more important of these rules being given in full. Especial attention is paid to idiomatic expressions, which are used wherever possible, and afford a most valuable training to the student.

Professor of the German Language and Literature in the Normal College,
New York.

KELLER'S FIRST YEAR IN GERMAN

Cloth, 12mo, 290 pages $1.00

KELLER'S SECOND YEAR IN GERMAN

Cloth, 12mo, 388 pages 1.20

These two books furnish a systematic and thorough course for beginners in German. They combine the best features of both the grammatical and natural methods of teaching. The lessons in each book afford suitable material for practice in reading, for oral and written exercises and translations, for conversational exercises, and for grammatical study. The student is encouraged from the first to speak and write German as the best means of gaining an intelligent knowledge and use of the language.

KELLER'S BILDER AUS DER DEUTSCHEN LITTERATUR

Linen, 12mo, 225 pages 75 cents

The plan of this work will commend itself to teachers who believe that the teaching of German literature should concern itself with the contents and meaning of the great works themselves more than with a critical study of what has been said about the works. With this aim the author gives a survey of the language and literature at its most important epochs, selecting for detailed study the chief works of each period and writer. A summary of the contents of each work so treated is given, generally illustrated by a quotation from the work.

The simplicity of the treatment and language adapts this work for younger students as well as for those of more advanced grades.

IT has been found from much experience that one of the best ways of interesting the student of German in his work is to acquaint him from the very outset with the people whose language he is studying. For this purpose those stories are best adapted which in tone and contents describe faithfully the various sections of the German Empire, portraying their local color and giving their local traditions.

These two volumes, each containing nearly one hundred stories, furnish reading matter of this nature, and include besides, valuable suggestive material for exercises in conversation and composition. They are well suited for intermediate and advanced grades, and provide excellent preparation for the reading of the German classics, being widely varied in character and subject matter.

The sketches all portray the romance of Germany—its scenery, cities, castles, and homes, interweaving with the descriptions the legends and folk-lore tales of the people. They do not, however, consist of fiction only, but furnish also many facts of historical, geographical, and literary importance. The books have been carefully edited. The vocabularies are complete and furnish ample aid. The maps enable the student to understand the full geographical and historical significance of the tales.

Latin Lessons and Methods

HARPER AND BURGESS'S ELEMENTS OF LATIN

By W. R. HARPER, Ph.D., D.D., President of the University of Chicago, and ISAAC B. BURGESS, A.M., Professor of Latin in Morgan Park Academy of the University of Chicago. Cloth, 12mo, 320 pages. With maps and illustrations. $1.00.

This first Latin book for beginners follows the modern method of developing the grammar from the language. In accordance with the practice of the best Latin teachers the pupil is early introduced to the connected text of Caesar. The lessons are short and the exercises abundant and progressive. Special attention is given to the vocabulary of new words.

SMILEY AND STORKE'S BEGINNERS' LATIN BOOK

By JAMES B. SMILEY, A.M. (Harvard), and HELEN L. STORKE, A.B. (Vassar), Instructors in Greek and Latin in the Cleveland West High School. Cloth, 12mo, 282 pages. $1.00.

This book differs in important essentials from other Latin methods. Its vocabulary is made up from the most common words in Caesar, Nepos, and Viri Romae. The noun and verb are treated for the most part in alternating lessons. The graded reading lessons are an important feature. Most of these are based on Caesar, others consist of fables and a Latin version of the labors of Hercules. Frequent word lists furnish material for exercises on vocabulary, form, word comparison, and English derivatives.

COY'S LATIN LESSONS

By E. W. COY, A.M., Principal of the Hughes High School, Cincinnati. Cloth, 12mo, 330 pages. Illustrated. $1.00.

This Introductory Book for beginners is intended to give a thorough drill in the essentials of Latin Grammar and to prepare the student to read different Latin authors in the course with ease and satisfaction. Special features will be found in the methods of presenting inflected forms, the accent of which is marked in all paradigms; in the prominence given to the tense sign of verbs by the use of heavy type; in the practical and suggestive character of the notes on the reading matter; and in the parallel exercises which supply the material furnished by the text.

HARKNESS'S EASY METHOD FOR BEGINNERS IN LATIN

By ALBERT HARKNESS, Ph.D., LL.D. Half leather, 12mo, 348 pages. Illustrated. $1.20.

This book is at once a Beginner's Grammar, a Latin Reader, and a Manual of Exercises—making a complete First Year's Course in the study. Its vocabulary is drawn mainly from the text of Caesar, and thorough drill is afforded in forms and constructions.

Outlines of Botany

FOR THE

HIGH SCHOOL LABORATORY AND CLASSROOM

BY

ROBERT GREENLEAF LEAVITT, A.M.

Of the Ames Botanical Laboratory

Prepared at the request of the Botanical Department of Harvard University

LEAVITT'S OUTLINES OF BOTANY. Cloth, 8vo. 272 pages . $1.00

The same, with Gray's Field, Forest, and Garden Flora.

791 pages 1.80

This book has been prepared to meet a specific demand. Many schools, having outgrown the method of teaching botany hitherto prevalent, find the more recent text-books too difficult and comprehensive for practical use in an elementary course. In order, therefore, to adapt this text-book to present requirements, the author has combined with great simplicity and definiteness in presentation, a careful selection and a judicious arrangement of matter. It offers

1. A series of laboratory exercises in the morphology and physiology of phanerogams.
2. Directions for a practical study of typical cryptogams, representing the chief groups from the lowest to the highest.
3. A substantial body of information regarding the forms, activities, and relationships of plants, and supplementing the laboratory studies.

The laboratory work is adapted to any equipment, and the instructions for it are placed in divisions by themselves, preceding the related chapters of descriptive text, which follows in the main the order of topics in Gray's Lessons in Botany. Special attention is paid to the ecological aspects of plant life, while at the same time morphology and physiology are fully treated.

There are 384 carefully drawn illustrations, many of them entirely new. The appendix contains full descriptions of the necessary laboratory materials, with directions for their use. It also gives helpful suggestions for the exercises, addressed primarily to the teacher, and indicating clearly the most effective pedagogical methods.

Mythology

GUERBER'S MYTHS OF GREECE AND ROME

Cloth, 12mo, 428 pages. Illustrated $1.50

GUERBER'S MYTHS OF NORTHERN LANDS

Cloth, 12mo, 319 pages. Illustrated 1.50

GUERBER'S LEGENDS OF THE MIDDLE AGES

Cloth, 12mo, 340 pages. Illustrated 1.50

By H. A. GUERBER, Lecturer on Mythology.

These companion volumes present a complete outline of Ancient and Mediaeval Mythology, narrated with special reference to Literature and Art. They are uniformly bound in cloth, and are richly illustrated with beautiful reproductions of masterpieces of ancient and modern painting and sculpture.

While primarily designed as manuals for the use of classes in schools where Mythology is made a regular subject of study and for collateral and supplementary reading in classes studying literature or criticism, they are equally well suited for private students and for home reading. For this purpose the myths are told in a clear and charming style and in a connected narrative without unnecessary digressions. To show the wonderful influence of these ancient myths in literature, numerous and appropriate quotations from the poetical writings of all ages, from Hesiod's "Works and Days" to Tennyson's "Oenone," have been included in the text in connection with the description of the different myths and legends.

Maps, complete glossaries, and indexes adapt the manuals for convenient use in schools, libraries, or art galleries.

Outlines of General History

FOR HIGH SCHOOLS, ACADEMIES, AND NORMAL SCHOOLS, AND FOR SPECIAL STUDENTS AND GENERAL READERS.

BY FRANK MOORE COLBY, M.A.

Professor of Economics in New York University.

Half morocco, 12mo, 610 pages. Illustrated $1.50

This General History possesses certain features and advantages which distinguishes it from all other text-books of its class. While designed primarily for use as a text-book, it presents such a conspectus of the history of the whole world as admirably adapts it for the use of special students and of general readers. The special feature which characterizes the book most is the interesting style in which it is written, the story from beginning to end being told simply and clearly, and yet in a most attractive manner. The book gives in brief compass a comprehensive outline of the history of the whole world, but a larger proportional space is given to mediaeval and modern history than in most other text-books in recognition of the relation of those later periods to the present status of the world's history. To this end also the great events of the nineteenth century are especially emphasized. Throughout the book the author has sought to point out the significance of events so that they should clearly explain later historical developments.

The book is well supplied with useful accessories. The different historical phases and periods are shown by well designed and accurate maps, many of which are printed in colors. The illustrations are numerous and finely executed. These include portraits of the world's greatest historical characters. The chapters are followed by brief summaries for reviews. The pronunciation of difficult proper names is indicated as they occur. Dynastic genealogies and successions are given in convenient tables. The index is very complete and well arranged.
